50-Yard Run Most Popular In Olympics

Corsicana's Special Olympics for the mentally handicapped will get off to a flying start at 9 a.m. Saturday at Tiger Field unless rain necessitates a postponement.

First, second and third place ribbons will be awarded in all events held by ability groups, according to David Hull, coordinator of the Olympics being sponsored locally by the Navarro County Association for Retarded Children.

The opening event, a 50-yard run, is expected to draw the largest number of participants in Olympics at which Corsicana Jaycees will serve as officials and timers.

Complimentary refreshments will be provided by the ladies of First Baptist Church serving from the Optimist Club's "refreshment wagon".

Members of the Corsicana TARS (Teens Aid the Retarded) will be working in tabulating results and assisting in dispensing ribbon awards to the win-

Upwards of 70 youngsters in the special education classes in Corsicana schools have been practicing the skills in the various Olympics events in the special contests designed to demonstrate to the handicapped they can compete and each be a winner.

Invitation Recalls Beginning of Religious Career 73 Years Ago Rally On-- Rain or Sun

By GENE McDONALL Women's Editor

Dr. J. M. Dawson, 93, one of Corsicana's outstanding senior churchmen, has been deluged with memories of two events of the week which recall the beginning of his career.

The first is an invitation to preach a reunion sermon in South Prong Church, the midget rural church near Waxahachie where in 1899 he delivered his first sermons at the age of 19. The congregation numbered fifteen members and paid $75 a year for once-amonth student preaching.

Tiny as it was, Dr. Dawson states, the church produced two Ellis County judges, a superintendent of Cleburne schools, a principal at Henrietta, and a well known missionary to Indians in western states. It also introduced young Dawson to a large Ennis church as supply, and announcement headlines termed him "the boy preacher".

Two years later, in 1901, the youth preached on a Sunday morning in First Baptist Church of Corsicana. In the previous year, First Baptist Church of Waco had ordained him — not without protest from leaders that he hailed from South Prong Church, of which they had never heard.

The proud Waco church subsequently retained him as pastor for 311/2 years, only releasing him to represent all Baptists of the United States in Washington, D.C.

The second event which has elicited memories from the venerable minister is an exhibit of a joint publication by the University of Texas and the American Council of Learned Societies, in which Dr. Dawson is featured.

The booklet, entitled "Darwinism in Texas", is, Dr. Dawson says, not at all argumentative, but is really a catalogue of documents and personalities connected with the highly controversial subject of evolution during the decade

Dr. Dawson's contribution, which is central, consists of letters and a memoir. The success of the 40-page paper-covered publication has been so great that the University of Texas has elected to put the publication in hard cover form. Dr. Dawson has been so advised by Thomas F. Glick, who edited and compiled the booklet for publication by the Humanities Research Center at the University.

Now on exhibit at the Texas History Center at UT, the book has been put on exhibit through the month of April by other colleges and universities, including Baylor. Copies may be seen at the Corsicana Public Library and at Navarro Junior College Library.

During his long career, Dr. Dawson has spoken in many states. After serving as pastor of First Baptist Church in Waco, he served for seven years as executive secretary of the Baptist Joint

One Dead In Kerens Shoot-out

KERENS—A man was shot to death here Friday evening shortly after he had wounded three others with a blast from his shotgun.

Navarro County Deputy Sheriff Bryan Dunagan identifed the dead man as Robert Lee (Bubba Rab) Hyder of Kerens. Aron D. Davis, one of the three persons wounded by Hyder, was held overnight in the county jail in connection with the shooting and was freed Saturday on a $1,000 recognizance bond.

According to Dunagan, Hyder had gone to Davis' home around 7 p.m. and fired a shotgun into the house, wounding Davis, his wife Arnell and Sylvestia Hayden. He then left the scene and returned at about 7:15 p.m.

Hyder was in the vicinity of Davis's home, Dunagan said, when Davis appeared with a revolver and shot him. Dunagan arrived on the scene minutes later in response to a call.

The Davises and Hayden were treated at Memorial Hospital in Corsicana for multiple buckshot wounds and released.

Housing Board Holds Secret Meet on Funds

By ROB MECKEL Sun Staff Writer

Members of the Housing Authority of Corsicana this morning met in a closed-door session with an official from the Department of Housing and Urban Development and the contractor and architect working on the 110-unit housing project for the elderly still under construction at Northwest Apart-

The press was asked to leave the meeting.

The 9:30 meeting, according to Housing Authority Board of Directors Chairman Robert M. Scott, II, was called to "work out an agreement" concerning construction of the project for the elderly.

During the April 4, 1972, Housing Authority board meeting, Ed Blackburn, project director, said construction on the 110-unit project was 98.7 per cent complete, but problems existed concerning the $1,580,479.43 project.

He said subcontractors working on the project have failed to pay bills due local business establishments for merchandise and services. Upon his recommendation, the board voted unanimously to withhold the $5,883.89 payment due the contractor, Robert W. Payne Company, this month until the subcontractors pay their debts and all payrolls are brought up to

Also during the April 4 cmeeting, Blackburn said the contractor has been assessed a penalty of $220 per day since Dec. 24, 1971, the day the project was scheduled for completion. He said the contractor will pay the penalty to the Housing Authority. Architect for the project is the Olein Boese & Associates firm. Robert W. Gladney, attorney for the Housing Authority, approached the Daily Sun reporter minutes before the meeting began today and said HUB officials of Fort Worth have concluded that the meeting this morning is "simply a conference to work out the contract, and this is not a meeting of the Housing Authority." He said matters involving this "conference" may possibly end up in a court of law and the officials did not want the case to be "tried in the newspaper".

Chairman Scott then commented "The meeting is primarily to work out an agreement, but with a reporter present, the lawyer representing Payne may take a different approach".

Gladney pointed out again that this was not a public meeting and that a quorum of board members was not present.

When asked to name specifically "who" who asking that the press leave the meeting room, Scott said it was the HUD officials and the lawyer representing Payne.

"HUD officials specifically feel they don't think a conference should be reported in the paper," Scott added.

This is not a public meeting. It is not a meeting of commissioners; it's just an office conference.

"No decisions will be made (by the Housing Authority). We are just here to discuss the problems."

Let the rain fall where it may — no one is expected to complain, least of all the campaigning office-seekers who'll be on hand Saturday afternoon for the Political Rally here.

Mrs. Kathy Hartman, president of the Corsicana League of Women Voters who are one of the sponsors of the rally, said Thursday the Navarro Mall Shopping Center will be used to the event of muchneeded rainfall that afternoon. The rally is set, otherwise, in the large field across from the shopping center on N. Main.

Another candidate, county commissioner Ellis Montgomery who is seeking re-election, has joined the field which lacks only a few names being complete. An agenda has been drawn up for the rally which will allow each candidate a few minutes of speaking time from the platform and plenty of opportunity for circulating through the

The Daily Sun and Navarro Junior College's Phi Theta Kappa chapter, cosponsors of the event with the League of Women Voters, have invited the public to come out and meet the candidates.

Starting time is 4:30 p.m. with entertainment by "The Blue Boys". Refreshments will be available, and chairs will be provided, although the public is encouraged to bring along lawn chairs and blankets for their own

Scheduled to appear at the rally are all three candidates for the Texas Senate representing District 9 — Democrats Ron Clower and Fred Orr and Republican Ken Keeth — and four of the six House of Representative hopefuls, Jim Bob Wilson, Rev. George Willis, Forrest Green and Jay Bobbitt.

Also set for the rally are Ernest Featherston and Clint Bell of the Pct. 1 county commissioner's race; Montgomery, Wallace Pryor and Thomas Dyer, all of the Pct. 2 county commissioner's candidates, and Aubrey Smith and James Derryberry in the Justice of the Peace, Pct. 1, Place 2

Hospital Owes $104,000

By SLYVIA A. WATERS Sun Staff Writer

The Navarro County Memorial Hospital Board of Trustees approved a motion to reimburse $104,458 to the Medicare Intermediary (Blue Cross-Blue Shield) for hospital services, at its board meeting Thursday night.

Medicare only pays a certain percentage of hospital bills for its policy holders, and all other expenses over the percentage are handled by the hospital. Medicare auditors spent a week at the hospital computing expenses, and their findings showed that the hospital owes Medicare

Gene Barron, hospital administrator, reported the bids for hospital equipment have been received from three companies and suggested all threee bids be turned down because two bids were postmarked late and one bid was postmarked two weeks early. Barron suggested the hospital re-advertise for bids.

Board members appointed Dr. G. T. Tizard, Dr. M. D. Dalton and Dr. T. D. DuBose to the Courtesy Staff of Memorial Hospital. They will work in the emergency section of the hospital on weekends.

Barron reported that the hospital staff will include six registered nurses in the next few months, four of whom will be coming from Korea. Barron said he feels they will make a great contribution to the staff.

Board members accepted a request from Dr. James Speier that the Article 3 Section 1 of the by laws delete the statement "In no case shall the credentials committee of this staff accept an applicant for an application who is not a member or a provisional member of the Navarro County Medical Society and of the Texas Medical Association.

The March 31 operating fund statement for Memorial Hospital showed $2,925,606.89 capital investment in plant fund and $974,711.31 for the operating fund.

The specific purpose fund which includes medical discount reserve, health and life and Fentress pediatric fund totals $268,407,84.

Total operating expenses for the month of March were $256,456 with $259,630 budgeted.

Persons attending the meeting were B. Lynn Sanders, W. L. Bain, Jr., D. W. Springer, A. G. Godley, Jr., Glenn Stewart, Dick Harwell and Gene Barron.

Wortham Sending Eight to Finals

WORTHAM—A delegation of eight Wortham students will try for tops in state honors next week during the Class B finals in Austin. Described by Sup't... Wayne Poe as the largest group in memory to represent Wortham in state competition, the Bulldog contingent comprises both athletic and scholastic stalwarts.

Going to the Austin meet as a result of victories in last week's Regional at Kilgore are Lydia Cockrill in typing, John Benson in persuasive speaking, and the oneact play cast of Benson, Danny Frost and Norris Buchmeyer.

Making the trip for their athletic prowess are the members of Wortham's sprint relay team, Malcom Brooks, Ken Thomas, Joe West and Stanley Chatman. Thomas will also run the 440 yard dash and Chatman has qualified for the 100 and 220 yard dashes.

Wortham Industry Men Visit

WORTHAM—Tom Starkey and a contingent of executives from the American Plant Food Corporation of Galena Park were Tuesday night guests of the Wortham Lions Club.

Starkey, who heads the newest industry to settle in Wortham, revealed that his organization chose Wortham for its plant because Wortham is the center of a joint ranching and row crop area. As experts in blending fertilizer, American Plant Food expressed its hope of dealing profitably with both the farmers and ranchers.

The estimated number of employes for the plant was not revealed, though hope was expressed that the company will be operating at full production by August. Also mentioned was the possibility of opening a retail outlet in Wortham to distribute the fertilizer after it has been processed. The Wortham plant will be the fourth such operation for American Plant Food, including the home plant outside Houston.
